FIRST, WHAT EXACTLY IS A NODE?

A Node is simply a connection point in a network that perform a specific functions.

In the blockchain a Node refers to a computer that support the network by verifying transactions and storing of data and in return makes money from those transactions.

Finova Node Plays a key role in facilitating the communication and confirmation of transactions on the blockchain

WHY FINOVA NODE?

Finova Node combines staking and automated algorithmic Ai Trading to select the best crypto currency tokens that offers the highest daily returns

Token offer:

Fin token is built on Binance Smart Chain, the supply is limited with high potential growth.

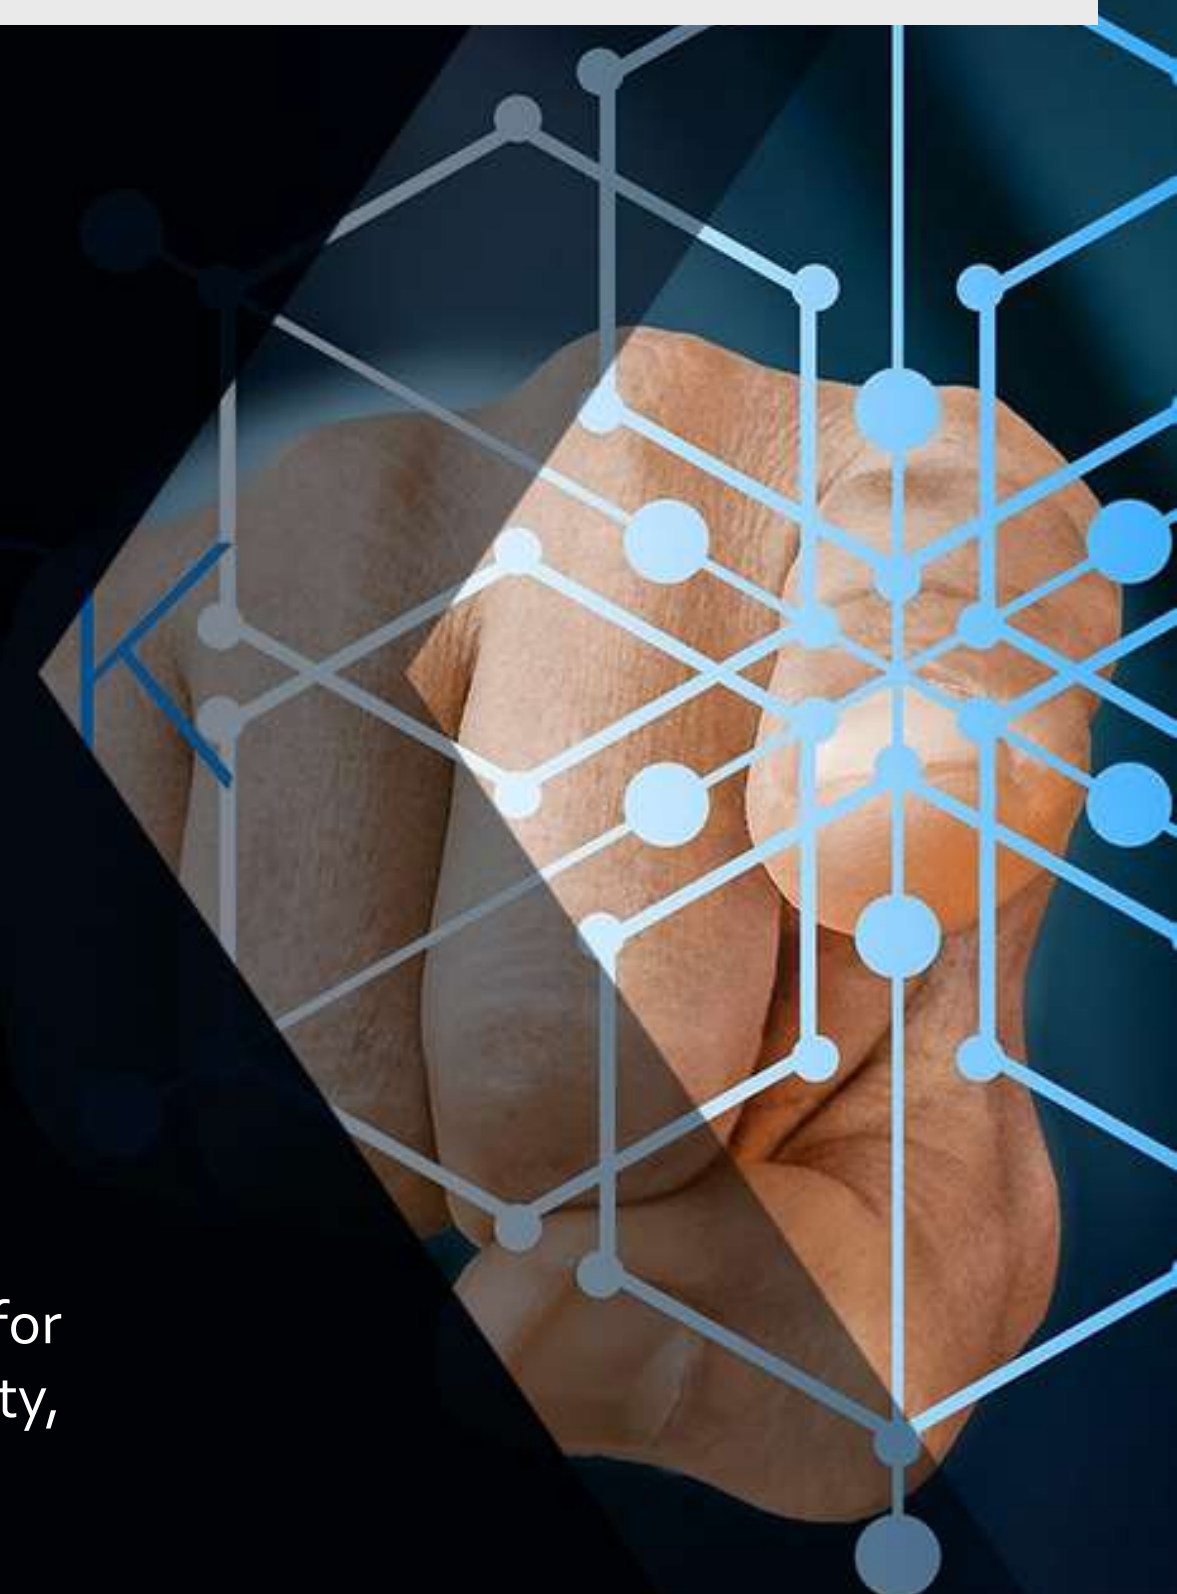

Decentralised Security:

Finova Node is built on Binance Blockchain, the largest blockchain in the world ensuring the safety of your assets

Finova Node is community oriented and user friendly.

Finova Node offers more just staking, it provides an ecosystem for wealth building and security for your funds ensuring longevity, transparency, accountability for participants.

HOW DOES NODES WORK IN FINOVA?

Each type of node collectively share its designated percentage of transaction fees, with rewards distributed proportionally among holders.

Every 24 hours, smart contracts calculate the total transaction volume within the Finova Nodes then automatically distributes rewards to users.

Algorithmic Ai daily token selection.
